THE BUSINESS OF MINING

Risks Less in Proportion to the Profits than in Manufacturing.

The figures we published last week, says the British Canadian Review of London, relative to mining profits in the United States, showed that 181 undertakings engaged in the mineral industry paid nearly 16,000,000 sterling in dividends during six months.
If the figures are carefully gone into it will be found that in proportion to the capital invested far larger returns are on the whole yielded by this industry than by any other which employs labor on a large scale. It has become the fashion in this country to regard mining as an extremely risky and speculative channel for the employment of capital.

It must be acknowledged that this attitude is not unjustified by the disastrous results which have followed a very substantial proportion of joint stock mining ventures, but the fault lies with those who initiate or direct these ventures, and not with the industry itself. The business of mining, when conducted on sound commercial lines, offers to-day—as it has in the past—the best of all openings for the employment of capital. In the United States, however fantastic a project may appear, the capital employed is almost invariably used to the best advantage. Everything is approached on plain commercial lines, and the best experience is brought to bear on the undertaking. The result is to be seen in the fact that that country possesses 253 mines which have so far paid dividends $825,000,000.
The American, whether he undertakes the establishment of a brewery, a woollen mill, or a mine does so entirely on sound business-like lines, and the result is usually satisfactory.

There are a number of English mining firms whose success is generally recognized, but frequently attributed to luck. A series of successful operations are not due to luck, but to the employment of plain business common sense—a far more quality than many engineers in all their undertakings.
There is no enterprise which a man can devote his money or his time more honorably and legitimately than in mining.

In all other industries, your success is obtained at another man's loss, to a greater or less extent. By developing

THE MINER ABOARD.

The National Investor, Philadelphia, says: "The Rat Portage Miner, of Aug. 20, contains a splendid article on American money developing the gold mines of Canada. It would be well for our readers to have a copy of this valuable paper as the article in question gives some very important information concerning the gold mining industry in Western Ontario."

SALE OF WORK AND SUPPER.

On the 19th inst., the Sisters of St.
Joseph's Academy will hold a sale of work in McVeigh's Hall, under the direction of several kind ladies who have generously offered their services for the occasion. The doors will be opened at 2 p.m., when all are invited to look around and choose their Christmas presents. There will be no entrance fee. Supper will be served from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

CURLING CLUB.

The adjourned meeting of the Rat Portage Curling Club was held in the town hall Tuesday night and arrangements for the season's sport were completed.

Owing to the resignation of Mr. M.
Kyle as president it was necessary to elect a successor, and Vice-President Robertson was unanimously selected.
Major Leveque was elected vice-president, and Mr. H. W. Kennedy, second vice-president.

Fifteen skips were elected, the following being chosen: President Robertson and Messrs. Lyon, Beaudre, Weir, Cameron, Campbell, Currie,
Gaudaur, Hudson, Schnarr, Neads,
Smith, Burton, Schwartz and Carmichael.

The executive committee is composed of President Robertson, Vice-President Leveque, Secretary Burton, and Messrs. Hudson, Currie, Weir, Lyon and Schnarr.

Last season's caretaker, Mr. McIllivan was again engaged, and he is instructed to get the ice in shape as soon as possible. Play will therefore probably start next week if weather permits.

Anyone wishing to join is requested to advise the secretary early as the rinks will be made up shortly.

The lecture Blunderers, pp. 126-132, is an eulogy on "pneumatics" in which Mr. Nain's blunders were not so numerous as his flashes of insight, which ran throughout the entire lecture, though true and clear, and philosophical, and rested into its place as naturally as a sunset in the evening, and actually arose the material world as the crystal stream bubbles from a spring. From a literary standpoint, Blunderers, is perhaps not as good as some of Mr. Nain's previous work, but it is all he pretends to be, and that is its author's merit it to be, and that is a short entertainment. It is never dull, or tiresome, for its sentiment changes too abruptly and too frequently, to give the audience excuse for losing its interest, and Mr. Nain's inimitable manner in lecturing is a feature which holds his auditors, and is a charm in itself.

RAT PORTAGE, ONT., NOV. 15, 1901

THE TRAIL OF THE PESSIMIST.

During last summer street corner philosophers and barroom sages predicted that Rat Portage would feel a business depression during the coming winter, and this cry was taken up by designing municipal ticklers and some people afflicted with panics, with the result that workmen left town in such numbers as to cause suspension of night work at two of our biggest saw mills. Labor became scarce in consequence and wages went up, but men could not be hired at any price; a striking example of this being furnished by the failure of Manager Peterson to hire common laborers for the Black Eagle mine at $2.00 per day. The first people to feel the effects of the spread of these malicious slanders on the town were the big employers of labor. Capital will not produce one dollar of wealth in any form whatever except by co-operation with labor. You may buy a farm and equip it with the most modern machinery, but if there is no labor on that farm there will not be one bushel of wheat produced in a hundred years. This applies to any form of industry—say, it applies in a case even where capital in the form of money is put into a bank at 3 per cent., for were it not for the labor of the bankers the money would not increase 1 per cent. in a thousand years. The banker lends deposited money to men who are engaged in some business where it is paid but to labor, and the laborer is thus enabled to not only make profit for himself and his employer, but also earns enough to pay the banker for his trouble.

There are millions of dollars invested in and around Rat Portage in wealth-creating industries, but if agitators are allowed to do as they please and derry the town, that capital will very soon be withdrawn and placed somewhere else where it will be allowed to co-operate with labor. The operations of the pessimist leave a trail of poverty and idleness behind them which must take years of earnest effort to obliterate. When the workers are driven from an industrial centre, as was the case here this fall, not only do the employers of labor feel it, but all the merchants of the town find that their sales have decreased in proportion to the falling off in the population; owners of dwelling houses are left without tenants, and those who still have their rentable property occupied discover that owing to the number of ellation, which seemed to do the worthy councillor considerable good. The mayor is the heaviest taxpayer in the municipality, so that the rebuke, coming from him, who had most to lose in case of depreciation of property, had a salutatory effect on the entire school of croakers.

A final word to the pessimists: If the oxen are foundering in the mire, in heaven's name arise and help us to get them out. Instead of sitting there bemoaning the alleged fate of the poor animals. If they are not in the mire, either cease howling calamity or cover your heads with ample gunny sacks.

Mr. Cameron is not a good mayor for the Electric Light Co. He is the people's chief magistrate.

The Rat Portage Lumber Co. have electric plants of the own in the mills and factories, so that when the council compel the C. T. & E. Co. to reduce the rate charged the people, the lumber company will not gain one cent by it.

We have brought the electric print to its knees at last by good sound argument. It knows now that the town is not "drifting" as it alleged last week, and acknowledges in its last issue that "so far as the district is concerned it was never in better condition than it is now. Everybody is employed and more men are wanted all the time."

Mayor Cameron is trying to reduce the rate that the C. T. & E. Coy. are charging the people, and the News is opposing the move. The mayor and the council got legal advice as to whether they had the power to reduce that rate, and the solicitor says they have. Why is the News endeavoring to throw discredit upon the mayor and council who are trying to benefit the people?

We are discovered—we are exposed—we are found, and we are lost! Our most secret ventricle has been explored and X-rayed by the editor of The News Electric print, who has turned a million volts upon us, and shown us to an unsympathetic public as a mere streak of gauzy phantasmalike "stuff that dreams are made of." We are not the editor of the Miner, for the Town Clerk is, and we are as if we had never been.

Alack the day we ever dared to question the might of "Electra."

We are up against it.

Electricity annihilates with a mere click, enormous distances, which fade away into a blue haze in the perspective of our imagination. It flashes thought about the perispheric earth, in the fraction of slow moving, heavy-footed time that it takes a schoolboy to describe the periphery of a shilling. It turns night into day, and town clerks into editors; it runs mills and railways and newspapers and soldering irons, and sometimes (now easy a moment until we put the insulator on our pen) to big cities in the east, then the business man and the town council come to the Miner. We do not take any credit to ourselves for this: we just happen to have the best machinery, and the best workmen, and we believe if any credit is coming to anyone, it ought to go to The Miner job department, and not to us personally. We do not believe in throwing bouquets at ourself.—Advt.

THE POPULAR DRUG STORE.

Strict attention to every detail of the Drug business, low prices, and giving our people just the thing they ask for, have all contributed to make our establishment the popular drug store of the town. Physicians' prescriptions filled with accuracy and despatch. We invite you to call and examine our large stock of Perfumes and new Toilet preparations.

PAIN'S CERYL COMPOUND.

At this time when thousands are suffering from headache, nervousness, dyspepsia, impure blood, liver complaint and kidney troubles, we can strongly recommend Paine's Ceryl Compound. This wonderful medicine is the prescription of an eminent physician. Try one bottle: it will give you cheering results. Our stock of Paine's Ceryl Compound is always fresh. Johnson's Pharmacy, Rat Portage, Ont.

TWO GREATEST LONDONS.

One is in England and the Other in Ontario—Similarities in the two Places.

York Has Most Namesake.

Scarborough is at this present moment enjoying a temperature of some eighty degrees in the shade. Palms and giant ferns, orange orchards and banana plantations, environ it, and its streets are crowded with gaily-dressed swarms of jubbering negroes and negroesses.

Of course, though, the particular Scarborough referred to is not the famous Yorkshire watering place, but the other town of that name in the West Indies, the capital of the Island of Tobago.

In Massachusetts, U. S. A., is a Sheffield where they make knives. It consists of one long street, shut in and overshadowed by lofty hills, down which tumble innumerable cascades. Up till about ten years ago the town had no industries. Then, one day, an enterprising citizen suggested that they should ape their prosperous British progenitor, using the water power ready to hand. No sooner said than done, and to-day the American Sheffield has over a score of forges going, and turns out some thousands of blades every week. Up to the time of writing, however, it is not considered that Sheffield, York, is in any way disturbed owing to the competition of Sheffield, U. S. A.

There are three Londons in the world, some of them places of considerable importance. The best known of these all in London, Great Canada, with a population including the suburbs of fifty thousand souls. It is situated on the River Thames, which is spanned by a Westminster and a Blackfriars Bridge; and it also possesses a Hyde Park, a Covent Garden, a Crystal Palace, and a Tower of London. A St. Paul's Cathedral, and a Post Mall, Piccadilly and Grosvenor. There are not many instances of a foreign town outstripping its British namesake in wealth and importance; but one such is afforded by Boston, in America, which has

NEW ZEALAND WOMEN

PHYSICALLY THE VERY FLOWER OF THE BRITISH COLONISTS.

The Use They Have Made of the Suffrage—91 Per Cent. of These Enfranchised Voted at the First Election—They Are One of the Most Intelligent Voting Classes in the World.

As in Hawaii, the first civilized women who visited New Zealand were the wives of missionaries sent out from New South Wales, and subsequently from England. These pioneer women endured hardships from which those who spent their lives in Hawaii were spared. The Maoris, or aborigines, among whom they lived, were a warlike people, and from 1814 until their final submission hostilities were always imminent, massacres occurring in which neither age nor sex was spared.

As it was a long voyage from England, only the most enterprising women had the courage to emigrate, and this, undoubtedly, had its effect upon the present British population, who, men and women both, are the very flower of the British colonists. They are surprisingly tall, athletic, with fresh, rosy complexions, and notwithstanding the enormous quantities of tea they consume, strong as live, in huge cups, morning, noon and night.

Because of their fowness, the women of New Zealand were treated with distinguished favor, and their children and grandchildren have reaped the benefits. The universities have been co-educational for many years, awarding women degrees with a justice that Oxford and Cambridge might well emulate. There are several clever young women employed upon the colonial newspapers, while others are making their way in other professions, notably that of medicine.

In 1893, after several years of persevering work, the bill legalizing universal suffrage was passed. A franchise league, of which Mrs. Dalry of Auckland was president, and Mrs. Kitson, secretary, was the medium through which the preliminary work was carried out.

One of the leaders of the suffrage movement was Lady Annie Stout, the wife of the chief justice. On the day of the first election Lady Stout officiated as an election judge, sitting all day in the polling booths in one of the worst districts of Dunedin, where she then resided. It is a remarkable fact that of the total number of women enrolled at the first election after they were enfranchised over 91 per cent. voted.

After the suffrage bill was passed the franchise league disbanded, but reorganized immediately under the title of the Women's Political Education League. Systematic study of political questions was taken up, and the result has been one of the most intelligent voting classes in the world. As to the result, its entire success may be inferred from the fact that a few years ago one anti-franchise member of the British Empire League, who had been in New Zealand, was asked to observe the abrogation of the law. He could not get a second, and at dawn amid roars of laughter, it was the death of opposition to women suffrage.

The women of Australia are somewhat more conventional than those of New Zealand, and to the casual observer the intellectual average does not appear to be so high. The first comers, however, who did not reside in the towns, roughed it in

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from indigestion or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feebleness. It quiets the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wisely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Della Seider, of Wilkesville, Vinton Co., Ohio. "I was suffering from female trouble of the worst kind; I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me by spells; was nervous, weak, had numb hands and arms, heart trouble, pains all through my body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at anything but my medicine and took it, as directed, and the first week it began to help me. I took three bottles and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of ten per cent stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

From Pneumonia, Typhoid or Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, La Grippe or any Serious Sickness

Require the Nerve Tonic, Blood Enriching, Heart Sustaining Action of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills

It is well known that after any serious illness the heart and nerves are extremely weak and the body greatly impoverished. For these conditions there is no remedy equals Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. It restores all the vital forces of the body which disease has impaired and weakened.

Mr. T. Barnicot, Aylmer, Ont., says: "About a year ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe which left me system in an exhausted condition. I could not regain strength and was very nervous and sleepless at night, and went up in the morning as tired as when I went to bed. 'I had no energy and was in a miserable state of health.' 'Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, which I got at Richard's Drug Store here, changed me from a condition of misery to good

How God Saves Us.

BY REV. W. M. ROCHESTER.

TITUS 3:4-7.

"But after that the kindness and love of God our Saviour toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; . . . that being justified by His grace we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life."

A prominent preacher and writer has given the following as summaries of a young person's religion:

1. Not a creed, but an experience.
2. Not a restraint, but an inspiration.
3. Not insurance for the next, but a programme for the present world.

Such language cannot stand as an accurate definition of religion, but it does serve to correct prevailing misconceptions, and to place the emphasis on things most important.

The words of Paul before us point much in the same direction. They at least tell us of an experience of cleansing, of a life that is transformed from within, and, though asserting the hope of life everlasting they do not neglect the intimation of a programme for the present. The writer is pronounced upon this that old things have passed away and a new era has begun. "These things I will that thou affirm constantly that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works." But chiefly does his message serve us now to explain how God saves His people.

To this work of saving one thing is added, namely, the effort of and Paul teaches that boasting is excluded by this Gospel, that he that glorieth should glory in the Lord."

"Sovereign grace! o'er sin abounding, Ransomed souls the tidings swell,
'Tis a deep that knows no sounding—Who its breadth or length can tell?"

On its glories
Let my soul forever dwell."

And now our thoughts are directed toward God's work for us and in us. Several distinct features of this saving work are mentioned, and though we may speak of them separately there is no interval of time separating them the one from the other. They are all coincident facts in the experience of every true believer on Christ. He that is cleansed and renewed in the spirit of his mind is justified and adopted into the family of God; and there is no justifying, no forgiveness without the new birth. Every child of God is a new creature in Christ Jesus. It becomes us to note these several phases of salvation.

1. Cleansing and renewing. This is spoken of as the work of the Holy Spirit. The washing, that of regeneration, is the fulfillment of the promise: "Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you and ye shall be clean. From all your filthiness and from all your idols will I cleanse you." Let us not deny the new birth, the renewing of the whole man after the image of God. This is the experience and the inspiration already spoken of in the name of religion.

2. Justification. This refers to God's act of forgiveness and His acceptance of us as righteous. "There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus." This is an act of God, and it means the blotting out of the record of sin against us.

3. Adoption. God accords us a new relationship to Him. We are made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. "Beloved now are we the Sons of God," and "all the privileges and hopes and the full inheritance of that relationship are ours. In the American war of independence a minister of the Gospel and his wife were shot. At the funeral the minister who conducted the service summoned the nine children to the front of the church and then called upon the congregation to fulfill God's promise that the orphan should be cared for. Adopting one himself, his example was followed by others until all found homes. One of these children passed into the family of the Marquis Lafayette. In this aristocratic home he shared to the full the advantages of the home-born sons, and rose to greatness. We have in God's adoption of us admission to high rank, to gracious privileges, and the hope of a rich inheritance. Let us reap the full present value of that new relationship to God. He is near. Let our fellowship be with Him. "Tennyson has said: "As the sun is to that flower so is Christ to my soul." And, speaking on another occasion to his niece as they walked through the fields, he said Christ is as really with us as we walk as He was by the side of the two disciples on the way to Emmaus. This is true. Emmanuel is His name, God with us. Thus God saves us. The Lord hath done great things for us.

"In thy salvation, all the day, O stranger, I will show place for thee."

ENGLISH GARDENS.

Talk Lere inspired by "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."

M.A.P. says: English ladies with fine country seats have always gardened, more or less successfully, from the days of Eve to those of Elizabeth and Her German Garden. But the publication of this last — and still more, perhaps, its mythical royal authorship — gave an impetus to gardening as a recreation for society women which does something more than passing mention in the pages of a society paper. At Easton Lodge, Lady Darwick has a wonderful garden of friendship, where all her friends plant a tree or a flower, each bearing a heart-shaped label and the name of the donor. Her Stakes-pere garden is also charming, with its apt quotations attached to each flower. There are also lily and rose gardens at Easton, the latter having as a motto at its entrance, "Tou de chesnes-mais roses"—"Villainous bad French, by the way, yet with a very pretty Alfred de Musset sort of ring about it, none the less. Finally, this most poetic of lady gardeners has a border of sentiment, where all the herbs and flowers are labelled with the quaint symbols of bygone days, white clover standing for memory, bayleaf for glory, veronica for fidelity, and balm for sympathy.

The Duchess of Somerset, Lady Londonderry, Lady Helen Vincent, Lady Grosvenor, Lady Falmouth and Lady Plowden are all noted gardeners, and most of them delight in old-fashioned posies. Lady Helen Vincent spends a great deal of time over her garden at Exeter. She has a beautiful rosary, a dist garden which used to be the Tudor garden in Falmouth's day, a pretty stone bordered little reserve dedicated to all sweet-smelling flowers. This she calls her "Garden of Scent." All over the grounds she has narcissi and forget-me-nots planted in such a way that it becomes in the springtime a veritable parquet of white and blue. Lady Grosvenor boasts of perhaps the quaintest and most fascinating of old gardens in the one at Saighton Grange, which in olden time belonged to the Abbot of Chester. As the monks of old were proverbially good gardeners — the English may consult Montalembert's Moines de l'Occident on this — Lady Grosvenor has wisely recommended these lines laid down by them, and to her beautiful home on the Dee presents the unique spectacle of a garden paved with stones, just as they were laid hundreds of years ago, when sandals shoon pattered over them. To carry out the element of religious symbolism still better Lady Grosvenor has made what she calls a Saints' Garden, wherein grow all the blossoms which are named after the holy men and women of the canon.

Lipton's Typical English Home.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who is unmarried, lives at Osidge, a pleasant, rambling, old-fashioned house, standing in a well-wooded park, near Southgate, Middlesex. Osidge anciently formed part of the estates of the abbots of St. Albans, which old-fashioned town, with its venerable cathedral, lies only a few miles distant. The house is comparatively modern, boasting an antiquity of only about a hundred years. The gardens and grounds are delightful, and in the park Sir Thomas has a well laid out golf course, over which he amuses himself with his friends occasionally. There is nothing pretentious about the house, which is designed for comfort and convenience and not as a show place for the Professional Men.

It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's backache, then urinary difficulties, then — unless it's attended to — Bright's Disease and — death.

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Strengthen and invigorate the kidneys — never fail to give quick relief and cure the most obstinate cases.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says: "From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sharon's drug store, I can say they are a most excellent remedy for kidney troubles, and I recommend them to sufferers from such complaints."

Dreadful Kidney Pains.
Could Not Rest or Sleep.

A. C. P. R. Conductor's Sufferings — He is Now Well and Gives Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Credit for the Cure.

Mr. W. E. Berryman, Conductor on the C.P.R., St. Stephen, N.B., writes: "I have been railroaded for 23 years, and for ten years suffered from a severe case of Kidney Disease and Backache, a trouble common to railroad men. It used me all up to walk, and after walking up hill I would have to sit down to get relief, my back was so bad. I could not sleep more than half the night and then didn't seem to get any rest. I had used all sorts of medicines and was pretty badly discouraged when I heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes of this treatment I found it was helping me and five boxes have made a complete cure. I now rest and sleep well, my back is strong and the old trouble has entirely disappeared. Many people to whom I have recommended these pills have been cured. Anyone wishing further particulars write me."

The sale of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is so speedy that of every similar remedy. One trial is enough to convince anyone that this is the greatest family medicine that money will buy. One pill a dose, 25 cent a box, at all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

The Miner

Not a creed, but an experience.

Not insurance for the next, but a programme for the present world.

Such language cannot stand as an accurate definition of religion, but it does serve to correct prevailing misconceptions, and to place the emphasis on things most important.

The words of Paul before us point much in the same direction. They at least tell us of an experience of cleansing of a life that is transformed from within, and, though asserting the hope of life everlasting they do not neglect the intimation of a programme for the present. The writer is pronounced upon this that old things have passed away and a new era has begun. "These things I will that thou affirm constantly that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works." But chiefly does his message serve us now to explain how God saves His people.

In this work of saving one thing is called out, namely, the effort of man to do works of righteousness. Salvation is of grace not of works. These works have a place, but this is not their place. By putting them here the divine order of things is reversed. Our good deeds do not purchase for us safety and peace, but "we are created in Christ Jesus unto good works." Salvation is not because of righteousness, but works are righteousness are the fruit of salvation. It is essential that we submit to God's way and observe His order. There is no other way, our works are inadequate to redeem us from sin and death. Were they sufficient to this end we could readily believe that God would accept them. When therefore we come before the Lord, and bow ourselves before the High God, it must be with those words on every tongue:

"Nothing in my hand I bring—Simply to thy cross I cling."

The opening of our eyes to the full meaning of sin suffices to convince us of utter bankruptcy and helplessness. Redemption is clearly beyond our reach.

"Could my zeal no respite know,
Could my tears forever flow,
All for sin could not atone,
Thou must save and thou alone."

It is to be observed next that God's love has a place in the saving of men. This "kindness and love of God our Father toward man" is a thing of long age, but had its manifestation in due time. That full appearance of His love was made at the coming of Christ, when God gave His only-begotten Son "at whosoever believeth on Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." To the merciful kindness of God we are indebted for salvation. His love is a great pure fountain from which flow to us the waters of everlasting life.

Tid from the mercy of our God
That all our hopes begin
His mercy saved our souls from death
And washed our souls from sin."

In coming to Him therefore we are to plead not merit but mercy; and our glorying must ever be not in our works but in His free grace. David's prayer suffices when we sue for forgiveness: "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness; according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

reap the full present value of that new relationship to God. He is near. Let our fellowship be with Him. Tenny-son has said: "As the sun is to that flower so is Christ to my soul." And, speaking on another occasion to his niece as they walked through the fields, he said Christ is as ready with us as we walk as he was by the side of the two disciples on the way to Emmaus. This is true. Emmanuel is His name, God with us. Thus, God saves us. The Lord hath done great things for us.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

SCOTT'S EMULSION OF
COD LIVER OIL
WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SODA

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

Lipton's Typical English Home.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who is unmarried, lives at Osidge, a pleasant, rambling, old-fashioned house, standing in a well-wooded park, near Southgate, Middlesex. Osidge anciently formed part of the estates of the abbots of St. Albans, which old-fashioned town, with its venerable cathedral, lies only a few miles distant. The house is comparatively modern, boasting an antiquity of only about a hundred years. The gardens and grounds are delightful and in the park Sir Thomas has a well laid out golf course, over which he amuses himself with his friends occasionally. There is nothing pretentious about the house, which is designed for comfort and convenience, and not a show place for the eyes of strangers. Some excellent pictures by Lady, Canaletto, Constable, Landseer, Marcus Stone, Charles Leslie, MacNell and Sidney Cooper, and innumerable curios gathered from all parts of the world are to be found in the interior. Sir Thomas Lipton shares with Mr. Chamberlain a taste for orchids, and in his houses are to be found many splendid examples of these exotics, among which a new and beautiful species, "Liptonia," is noticeable. An orangery and a collection of tea plants are items of interest sure to attract the attention of the visitor. Smooth lawns, gay beds of flowers, fine old cedars, pollard oaks and magnificent rhododendrons add not a little to the charm of the grounds. From the windows of this typical English home a fine prospect meets the eye. In the foreground lies a pleasant, undulating country, while far away stretches the gigantic sea of London, with its pall of smoke. On a clear day the gilded cross of St. Paul's Cathedral can be discerned shimmering in the sunlight.

A Bishop's Long Ride.

As Lord Kintore was the first Australian Governor to accomplish the feat of riding across that continent, so will the Bishop of Carpentaria be the first of his class to do this great and even hazardous journey. Lord Kintore had the advantage that he took a trap and several companions with him, and stuck to the overland telegraph line the whole way, meeting line repairers and stations at regular intervals. The adventurous bishop will go wider afield, mostly for the purpose of looking up the aborigines, tribes as he passes down the country, and it is only to be hoped that he will reach Adelaide in safety. The bishop should be glad of a rest when he has come to the aid of his 1,300 mile ride on camel-back—London Chronicle.

State Agent for South Australia.

Mr. H. A. Granger, who takes up the title of State Agent for South Australia, is 55 years of age, and an Englishman by birth, but has spent most of his life in South Australia, where for a number of years he was a member of Parliament for an important mining constituency. On questions of Australian finance, Mr. Granger is regarded as a leading authority, and as a journalist he has made a mark in his own country. For some time he acted as correspondent of the Economist, and his letters to that paper attracted wide attention. Mr. Granger is a particularly able business man and politician.

ONTARIO AT CHARLESTON

some Things We May Do for Ourselves at the South Carolina Interstate and West Indian Exposition.

(Special by Martha Craig)

The Province of Ontario recently authorized Frank N. Speller, B. S. C., the Ontario representative of the Commissioners' Association of the Pan-American Exposition, to become a delegate of this association to the Charleston Exposition.

At Charleston on the invitation of the Charleston Exposition, the Ontario party left by rail car Nov. 21st and on the following day the Southern Railway from Charleston to the Exposition. At Charleston, the party was met by the Mayor of the city, and a Committee of the Board of Trade took the visitors to the Exposition through the Olympic grounds, and the subsequent day a large number of the Ontario party were taken to the Exposition by the Southern Railway.

The object of this trip was to give the Ontario party a first-hand knowledge of the Exposition and the various exhibits. The party was met by the Mayor of the city, and a Committee of the Board of Trade took the visitors to the Exposition through the Olympic grounds, and the subsequent day a large number of the Ontario party were taken to the Exposition by the Southern Railway.

BABY'S HEALTH.

The Most Precious Thing in the World to a Mother—How to Care for Little Ones.

No price would be too great to pay for the preservation of the perfect, rosy, sturdy health of a baby. No price would be too great; but as a matter of fact, the price is very small—simply precaution and the exercise of good judgment.

It is not good judgment to give the tender, little infant remedies containing opiates, and the so-called "soothing" medicines, always contain opiates; they do not cure, they only drug and stupefy the little ones. Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiates and no harmful drugs. It is the best medicine for little ones, because it is promptly effective and absolutely harmless. For nervousness, sleeplessness, constipation, colic, stomach trouble, the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth and other infantile troubles, Baby's Own Tablets are beyond question the best medicine in the world. The tablets are sweet and pleasant to take, and dissolved in water can be given with absolute safety to the youngest infant. Mothers who have used this medicine for their little ones, speak of it in the most enthusiastic terms—that is the best proof of its efficacy. Mrs. Alonzo Felton, Whitehead, N. S., says:—"In my opinion, Baby's Own Tablets are unequalled for children. They take it readily, and it regulates the bowels, cures them of peevishness, and is a great helper in teething. I would not think of being without the Tablets." Sold by druggists, or sent postpaid on receipt of price 25 cents a box, by addressing Dr. J. C. Williams, Montreal, P. Q.

Not be Cured by Ordinary Drugs and Medicines.

THE DREAD DISEASE WAS BANISHED AFTER USE OF TWO BOTTLES OF

Paine's Celery Compound

A Statement Carrying Warning and Encouragement to Every Sufferer.

While the blood is the life of the system, carrying to every part its share of force and energy, it is also the means by which the waste matter, the result of decomposition of the tissues, is removed from the body. If disease has touched the kidneys, there is grave danger, and deadly oppression will settle upon the body and mind.

If you have any of the symptoms of Bright's disease or diabetes, Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine on earth that can stay the ravages of the disease and cure permanently. Mr. C. Keivill, of Dunford, Ont., testifies as follows:

"For the past fifteen years I have been troubled with diabetes. Often while working in a stooping position I would find it difficult to straighten up at once, and I could only do so after repeated efforts. While under very severe attacks of my trouble, I became very nervous, and continually had tired, worn-out feelings. My rest at night seemed to do me no good, as I always felt tired in the morning. I have been taking medicines and was getting worse all the time. At last I decided to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial. I procured a bottle, and took it as directed, and found its effect marvellous. Before I had finished the first bottle I began to improve; after I had used the second bottle I felt as well as I ever did in my life. It banished all my aches and pains, and my nervousness disappeared. I can go to bed now and sleep well and rise in the morning rested and refreshed."

Efforts are being made to keep navigation at Fort William open until a late date; also to maintain the upper lake lighthouses.

The manufacturers of the popular Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns are filling orders daily from all sections of Canada and the United States. The pretty designs are attracting the attention of all women who are interested in the making up of home-made mats and rugs. Each pattern is brought out in full, rich colors of the best imported Scotch Hosiery, ready for hooking. Scores of pretty creations made from the Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns were exhibited at the autumn fair and attracted much attention. The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 220 Mountain St., Montreal, P. Q., will send postpaid to any address sheets of new designs to enable ladies to make proper selections.

A delegate of this association, to the Charleston Exposition, visited the Charleston Exposition, directed by the party left for Montreal on Aug. 21st, and enjoyed the courtesy of the Southern Railway from Washington southward next day. At every point no effort was spared to show Southern hospitality to their guests. At Columbia where a three-hour stop was made, the Mayor of the city and a Committee of the Board of Trade took the visitors around the city through the Olympic Cotton factory and wholesale state dispensary where all the liquor consumed in the state is put up.

Charleston, the object of this trip, a city overflowing with hospitality and interesting associations. Here the old colonial style of 150 years ago are preserved, notwithstanding the devastating effects of war, two floods and earthquake, and amidst those treasured relics of a prosperous past and the subsequent depression are to be seen unmistakable signs of the new industrial activity springing in the South indicating a rosy future for this fertile country in the near future.

The Fair Grounds situated on an old plantation fronting for half a mile on the Ashley River are now a scene of activity and bustle such as is usually the case prior to the opening of a great exposition. The grounds combined so many natural beauties, such as waterways, immense lines of oaks, old colonial mansions, etc., that it was the unanimous opinion of all landscape architects that they should be left in their natural state, simply adding the handsome group of buildings in ivory staff to complete the effect.

It is the object of this Exposition to bring the northern portion of North America in contact with the West Indies that mutual trade interests should be advanced. A vast amount of enterprise and $11,500,000 has already been expended towards this end and the demands for space have forced the authorities to still further extend their plans. The South is taking a new start; they need many things that we can supply. Our cornucopia is rapidly taking the place of the failing supply from Georgia. Arsenic, the only manufacturers of which in America at this time are situated in Deloro, Ont., is required in many branches of the arts and they will undoubtedly require our nickel in the manufacture of nickel steel.

Undoubtedly a portion of the splendid collection of the material in the Mines and Forestry Departments of Ontario at the Pan-American. If moved to Charleston would continue the good work of bringing our resources to the notice of the world at a proportionately low cost to the Province, as the railroads are offering practically free transportation. Canadians will be glad to learn on the authority of Edison's Electrical Superintendent at the Pan-American that more specialists from Mr. Edison's laboratory are on their way to Soudbury where Mr. Edison has been conducting experiments with Canadian nickel ore. Mr. Edison will have 30 of his experts engaged on this work in Soudbury and evidently intends to open up operations of a nickel scale.

Boys in New Zealand. In New Zealand a law recently passed requires that boys under 18 years of age working in factories must be paid not less than $1.25 per week and girls not less than $1.00 per week. Under such a law the practice of compelling boys and girls to work for nothing while learning a trade would be broken up.

The odds for the big fight Friday are in favor of Jeffries.

Baron Dieckman. The name of John Harmand, Baron Dieckman, is now little remembered, for the reason that his reputation as a soldier was all but totally eclipsed by the exceptional brilliance of his successor in the office which entitles him to a place in the records of Canadian history. He was the Commander-in-Chief of the French forces in Canada during the early stages of the struggle which eventually led to the cession of the country to Great Britain before General Calum assumed the command that was to have such a brilliant, though pathetic ending. When the English invaded Canada in 1755, however, Harmand met at first with considerable success in repelling them. Col. Ephraim Williams was met and routed, but on the same day the army of Sir William Johnson more than regained the loss by a complete victory over the French. Dieckman himself was severely wounded and carried prisoner to New York. He died a few years later in France, on September, 8, 1767.
